

WORLD ORAL HEALTH DAY

World oral health day is celebrated globally every year on 20 March. Department of Periodontology, NPDCH, Visnagar celebrated the oral hygiene day on 20th March, 2017 to highlight the importance of oral health for a healthy body.

A project competition was held which included active participation from undergraduate students and interns of dental college. This was an on the spot competition where the students had to get all the raw material by themselves. One hour time was allotted for making the project.

After one hour projects were assessed by the judges, Dr Kamal Bagda [Professor and Head, Dept. of Endodontics] and Dr. Dhaval Mehta [Professor and Head, Dept of Oral Medicine and Radiology] by means of question and answer session. Active interaction was there between the judges and the participants.

All the projects were well made by the students. They mainly emphasized the importance of oral hygiene on the overall body health.

Dr J.R. Patel [Dean and I/C Provost, SPU] also visited the venue and had an interactive session with the participants. All other faculty and students from the dental college also paid a visit to the competition.

This was followed by prize distribution to the winners by the judges. The prize winners for the competition were Devshree Halani and group who stood Ist, 2nd prize was won by Neerja Chaudhari and group and 3rd prize was bagged by Jayti Shah and group.
